November 1990

During World War I, the American Library Association (ALA) accepted the challenge of providing library service to the armed forces. Federal funds were not allocated for camp libraries, so the ALA conducted two national fund-raising campaigns.

To support these campaigns, the ALA distributed publicity materials to libraries, including this 1918 poster.

More than 3 million books were collected and another 2 million were purchased to distribute to camps in the States and abroad.

Reprinted from an original poster ca 1918 promoting ALA's War Service Committee campaign to provide books to camp libraries and soldiers during World War I.

Our Armed Forces in Saudi Arabia need books to read. The Library, in cooperation with American Legion Post No. 694, will forward your gently used paperbacks to the troops.

MEET THE MUSICIAN: CHOPIN

Sunday, November 18
2:00 p.m.

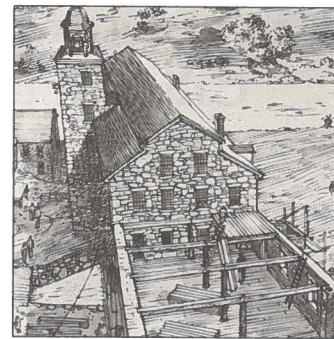

Sit back and imagine yourself in nineteenth century Europe as Dennis Kobray recreates the life and romantic music of Frederic Chopin. No registration is necessary.

DAVID MACAULAY EXHIBIT

Original drawings by David Macaulay, author of the bestselling book The Way Things Work, will be on display in the Northport Library this month.

David Macaulay is one of those unique authors whose books are extremely popular with audiences of all ages, all over the world. Born in Burton-on-Trent, England, Macaulay came to the United States as a young boy and pursued his interest in art at the Rhode Island School of Design, where he received his Bachelor of Architecture degree and participated in the European Honors Program in Italy and Greece. After doing free-lance illustration, graphic work, and traveling extensively in Europe, he wrote his first book, Cathedral: The Story of Its Construction, which Houghton Mifflin published in 1973.

This prestigious exhibit consists of 20 framed original works of art from his books City, Mill, Great Moments in Architecture, and The Way Things Work.

YOUNG ADULT BOOK REVIEWERS

Become a book reviewer! The next meeting of the Northport-East Northport teen book reviewers will be Friday, November 16 in the Northport Library Prime Time Center.

Be among the first to read the newest YA books and have your reviews published. No registration is necessary. Just join us for soda and cookies and a chance to talk about the latest book you've read . . . and whether you loved it or hated it, whether it made you laugh or made you cry. If you have any questions, call Mrs. Killen or Mrs. Romer, your Young Adult Librarians, at 261-6930.

DID YOU KNOW . . .

. . . that with your parent's permission, you can take out videos? Ask for details at the Reference desk of either library.

ATTENTION JOB HUNTERS

The library is accepting applications for the position of library page. If you are 15 years and older you are eligible to apply. Average work-week of 15 hours includes evenings and weekends. For information come in and see Mrs. Burton.

Who's On Board?

At its recent annual organizational meeting, the Trustees of the Northport-East Northport Public Library elected Jennifer Richmond to serve as Chairperson of the Board until June 1991. Anthony DiFranco was elected Vice-Chairperson. Other members of the Board of Trustees are Stuart Goldblatt, Ruth McKay, and C. Annette Carr.

Chairperson Jennifer Richmond has served as a Library Trustee since 1984, including a term as Vice-Chairperson, and has "thoroughly enjoyed every minute" on board.

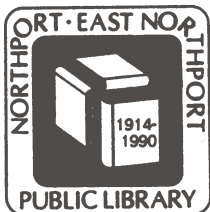

Mrs. Richmond received her bachelor's degree from SUNY Oneonta and a master's degree from SUNY Stony Brook. Her professional background includes many years as a high school English teacher, and she is currently reviewing videos for a library media service.

Our Chairperson's future career plans have taken an interesting twist. As the result of her experiences as a Library Trustee, Mrs. Richmond has come to realize that Librarianship is an important and dynamic profession. She is presently completing a second master's degree — this time in Library Science!

Mrs. Richmond and her husband, Warren, an attorney, live in Northport village with their two children, Kerry, age 12, and Warren, age 8.
