Do-ing Music Presents Lutenist Christopher Morrongiello
(N) Friday, January 26, 7:30 p.m.

The Northport Arts Coalition, in cooperation with the Library, presents virtuoso lutenist Christopher Morrongiello. A graduate of the Mannes College of Music and the University of Oxford and a recipient of the prestigious British Marshall Scholarship, Dr. Morrongiello has been actively promoting the lute and its repertoire in concerts, recordings, and academic journals for more than 15 years. He has performed for the Queen of England and was a prizewinner in the BBC Radio Young Musician of the Year Competition. He will play on an authentic Renaissance lute. During the performance he will relate the lute's fascinating history and playing technique. Join us for what promises to be a memorable evening. Free tickets are available January 6 at both library buildings.

FOR ADULTS

New! We'd Like You to Meet "SARA"

Scanning And Reading Appliance
SARA is the newest addition to our library family. SARA stands for Scanning And Reading Appliance. SARA can be used to read printed materials, or to listen to Talking Books* or books on CD. Originally designed for those with low vision or vision disability, SARA can also be used to those studying ESL or individuals with learning disabilities. The appliance works by scanning a printed page, displaying large print text on a computer screen, and reading that text aloud to the user.

In addition to reading documents provided by the user, SARA also has a library of classic literary works already loaded and ready to be listened to.

We would be happy to assist you in getting to know SARA, which is currently located in the Northport Library.

A special thanks to the Lion's Club for their donation toward the purchase of our new SARA.

*Talking Books are recorded in a format that requires specialized equipment. If qualified, both the books and the equipment are supplied to library patrons free-of-charge. Please see a Reference Librarian for further information.

Gallery Exhibits:

Northport Library Gallery:
"Seasons of Light & Color" by Michael Killelea
Watercolor artist Michael Killelea shares paintings he has done while traveling through Europe, China, and Thailand as well as works from his newest book Seasons on the North Fork. Mr. Killelea's watercolors have been featured at numerous local galleries and exhibits. Two of his paintings are part of the US Navy Museum collection in Washington. He is the author of two collections of watercolors: Wandering the North Fork and Seasons on the North Fork.

Art Talk

The Museum Cove Presents

"Children Between Worlds"

An Exhibit from the International Youth Library of Munich

Books can serve as bridges in a world that is often divided by economics, culture, politics, and religion. The Northport-East Northport Public Library's Museum Cove is proud to present "Children Between Worlds," an international children's book exhibit designed to promote the themes of peace and tolerance. This collection features books with common themes that foster understanding for other cultures and encourage a dialogue between peoples.

Books chosen for this exhibit represent literature from dozens of cultures, and are in their original languages. Books from a separate exhibit, "Hello, Dear Enemy," will also be available for examination. Both exhibits were prepared by the International Youth Library in Munich, Germany. The traveling exhibit will be displayed at twelve sites throughout the United States. We invite you to experience this timely exhibit in the Northport Library's Museum Cove during the month of January.
